A Five Foot Turkey.

John McFormick, a farmer who resides across the river from Clinton, Ia., in Illinois, is the owner of a turkey gobbler which is probably the largest that has ever been raised in the United States. This monstrous towers into the air five feet and weighs sixty-five pounds. It looks more like an ostrich than a turkey. Its legs at the feet are an inch and a half in diameter, while close to the body they are the size of an ordinary man's arm at the elbow. The bird's single measure seven feet from the tip of the tail to the tip of the beak. The turkey is two years old and never waddles away from home, as is usually the habit of turkeys. The turkey is of the bronze variety, and Mr McFormick says he has been offered large sums for the monster fowl, but has no desire to sell it.—Ex.
